

please.... please do not relax cell phone restrictions on commercial airlines. it's bad enough that we have to listen to people in the airport. if the chatter finds its way onto the planes, i think you will see an increase in unpleasant confrontations and "flight rage" boiling beyond control.